ABOUT US:

Healthcare Conferences Canada Inc. (HCCI) is an Educational service established by caregivers, medical students & professionals with other allied healthcare specialists to respond effectively to the multicultural exigencies of the Canadian society. We envisage an innovative integration of the diverse ethnic, cultural, religious and spiritual resources as indispensable components of the delivery of a person-focused and holistic care.

SPEAKERS' BIOS

Dr. Hazel Markwell is the Director of the Centre for Clinical Ethics, a joint venture of Providence Healthcare, St. Joseph's Health Centre and St. Michael's Hospital, in Toronto. She is also an Assistant Professor in the Department of Anesthesia at the University of Toronto. She has lectured nationally and internationally on ethics in health care, particularly on issues related to organizational or business ethics and has facilitated numerous sessions on business ethics for Senior Management and Boards of Directors.

Dr. Kenneth Westhues is Professor and former Chair of Sociology at the University of Waterloo, since 1975. He has been a visiting professor at Fordham (New York), Memorial (Newfoundland), and Graz (Austria), and has lectured widely across North America and Europe. He has played a leadership role in the introduction of Scandinavian scholarship on workplace mobbing to North America and in its application to higher education. He has many publications to his credit.

Gurwinder K. Gill For over 25 years she has been leading and managing programs in diversity and cultural competency within healthcare, social and community services. Currently, she is the Director of Diversity Services with William Osler Health Centre. Gurwinder has shared experiences through national and international partnerships. She plans, promotes and implements strategies for the integration and sustainability of a culturally or diversity-competent health care system.

Mrs. Alison Abdool, OT(UK&C), is Program Director of the Integrated Mood & Anxiety Disorder Program at Homewood Health Centre, Guelph, Ontario. This program specializes in the holistic treatment of depression and anxiety disorders resulting from "compassion fatigue" due to being in the role of the care-giver. Alison is a seasoned professional therapist, whose specialty includes facilitating therapeutic groups such as stress, anxiety and anger management, self-esteem, self identity, sexuality, communication and relationships for over fifteen years. She has presented at national and international conferences
